

Twelfth Sunday in Ordinary Time

A Summer Blessing

May you walk with God this summer
In whatever you do...Wherever you go...

Walking with God means...
Walking with honesty and with courage,
Walking with love and respect
And concern for the feelings of others

May you talk to God this summer
And every day and in every situation

Talking with God means...
Praying words of praise
For the beauty of creation
Saying prayers of thanks
For friends and good times,
Asking God's help in all your decisions
Expressing sorrow when you have failed

May you talk with God
Every day. Amen.

- “How do we, as individuals and communities, seek renewal in our relationship with God?”
- How can different categories of status affect how we treat others in our faith communities today? How does this passage in Galatians speak to that?
- What contrasting words or images in the First Reading and Gospel express the paradox of something good coming out of something terrible?
